GT Foods

PROUD
OF BEING Brazilian

GT Foods is a genuinely Brazilian company located in the State of Parana, one of the most important states for chicken meat production. Founded in 1992, GT Foods has grown from a single operation company to a multi-facility enterprise, operated by more than 10 thousand direct employees with products distributed over the entire country and to over 100 other countries worldwide. Our work strengthens the Brazilian economy, thus generating value for the local community.

QUALITY AND Taste!

GT Foods is constantly developing new products to reach out different customers in different places and different cultures. We understand that the wealth of each people is their culture; therefore developing products for specific demands is part of our conduct.

This bias is a part of us, and with it the quality in breeding, feeding and processing chicken meat, as well as packaging and labeling, is of great importance. We count with experienced product development professionals and a resourceful market department, always seeking out what is up to date in labeling and packaging.
